

shared_ptr<T>

shared_ptr<T>

T

```
graph TD; A[shared_ptr<T>] --> C[T]; B[shared_ptr<T>] --> C;
```

The diagram illustrates a shared pointer concept. Two boxes at the top, each labeled 'shared_ptr<T>', have arrows pointing down to a single box labeled 'T'. This represents two different pointer instances managing the same underlying object of type T.